LAWYER GOFF TAKES HOLD.

BE WILL HELP SUIHERLAND TO AID THE INVESTIGATING SENATORS.

He Waives His Condition that He Should Have Entire Control of the Smelling Hee -A Fresh Batch of Election Tales Told to the Seastors Yesterday Morning, A fresh batch of election stories was the order of the day in the police investigation yesterday. Chairman Lexow arrived late, having been in conference with Lawyer Goff, Dr. Parkhurst, and Fresident Charles S. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce in Mr. Goff's office. as a result of which conference Mr. Goff will act as counsel for the committee. This does not mean, however, that Mr. Sutherland will be superseded, according to one of the Senstors, but that the lawyers will serve together on an equal footing. Dr. Parkhurst and President Smith were at the inquiry after the conference, and took notes of the proceedings.

The first witness was John Sabine Smith, who corroborated the testimony given by Leader Murray on the previous day. He said: On election day I visited a polling place in the Third Assembly district. I found the Re-publican watcher shut outside of the rail in the poiling place. He told me that the Tammany inspectors had ordered him out. "I told him he had a right to go inside the rail and insisted upon his doing so. The Tammany inspectors were insolent, and refused to permit him to enter.

"The police officer refused to put the man in, and I went to Police Headquarters and re-ported the incident to Superintendent Byrnes. He sent Inspector Conlin down, and the Inspector put the man in and ordered the policeman to keep him there the rest of the day."

Mr. Smith related another instance where after much trouble he induced the Captain of the precinct to interfere in support of the watchers. Then Bryant Willard, a law student, teld how three policemen had thrown him out from the polling place where he was a watcher, and Robert Strahl, a former United States Marshal, said that he was hit over the head with a derby hat while doing his duty at the

A peculiar circumstance in the testimony collowing was that none of the witnesses seemed to be able to tell the names or numbers of the policemen against whom they testified. Joseph Gerardi, a musician and a Republican watcher, couldn't seven remember the number of the district at the poils of which he watched, but said that the polling place was in Spring street somewhere. He was put out from behind the railing by a policeman, he said. Adolph Gurau, a ballot clerk at the Twenty-second Election district of the Six teenth Assembly district polls, testified that he saw Tammany workers going into the booth with voters, and a policeman six feet away made no effort to stop it. Then Joseph Honaparte, who was a watcher at the polls of the Twelfth Election district of the Third Assembly district, said that a policeman would not let him behind the rail, saying in reply to Bonaparte's protests that he was acting by under of Capt. Devery.

John il. Treweiar, an inspector of election in the Second Election district of the Seventeenth Assembly district, gave some rather peculiar testimony regarding the voting of several man who had moved out of the district when the house in which they lived on West Forty-first street was burned. When the witness challenged their votes Thomas J. McCann, a Tammany man, insisted that they had a right to vote in that district.

I challenged the vote of the first man," said Trewelar," and McCann said that he had sent word to Follec Commissioner Martin about the matter, and the Commissioner had said that if the men would make an afflowit that they intended to return and take up a restion house, where Cant. Fries declined to hold idm. I challenged the vote of the first man, who had nowed to strike out the testimony about Commissioner Martin, but Chairman Lexow denied the motion.

Emil Rosenbaum testified that he had been balgered and abused by a pollceman, who wanted to help him fix his ballot, and who became abusive when Rosenbaum refused his help.

Samuel Schim, once a candidate for Assembly on the Central Labor ticket in the "Old Are" district, then told a tale of woe about of the policemen against whom they testified. Joseph Gerardi, a musician and a Republican tiean. Well, I'm always on the right side," replied s witness. "Are you's Populist?" "No, sir; a Republican." Were you's member of Barney O'Rourke's Beciation?

Association?"
"I'm not sorry that I wasn't."
"They were Republicans at one time, I be-

"The not sorry that I wasn't."

They were Republicans at one time, I believe."

"Bepublicans for revenue only."

"Oh, then there are such Republicans." remarked Mr. Nicoli blandly.

He then questioned the witness as to his abilities as an orator or spellbinder, until benator Lexow put an end to it by saying:

"Your questions seem to be intended to make the investigation rather ridiculous. It is not a funny thing, but a serious matter, and we must not waste time."

After few more questions by Mr. Nicoli the witness stepped down, and Mr. Sutherland announced that he had no more witnesses. The investigation was then adjourned until next featurday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Friday being dood Friday.

After the adjournment Dr. Parkhurst dictated this statement regarding Mr. Goff's action.

"Mr. Goff has been secured to take others."

"Mr. Goff has been secured to take charge

Mr. Goff has been secured to take charge of the investigation subsequently to the completion of the election in ulry now in progress. Speaking for myself and Mr. Smith, we have the utmost confidence in the sincerity and carnesiness of purpose of the Senatorial committee, and we feel sure that the investigation will be searching and nitiless, and confidently believe that the committee deserves to receive the carnest support and cordial cooperation of the press and the community. Chairman Lexow said that Mr. Goff had waived his condition that he should have entire control of the investigation, and that matters were easily arranged on a basis satisfactory to all parties.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH INQUIRY. Inspector Curtice Airs a Personal Complaint

Against President Donahue, The Senatorial committee appointed to investigate the methods of the State Board of Health resumed its inquiry yesterday morning at the Hotel Metropole, Dr. Joseph D Board, was the first witness. Dr. Bryant is Surgeon-General of the State, and he gave expert testimony regarding tuberculosis in cattle and man, its prevalence and treatment. In reply to questions by Lawyer Owen Cassidy, regarded Dr. Louis Balch, the Secretary of the State Board, as an efficient executive officer. The only complaint Dr. Bryant had heard against Dr. Balch was a personal one made by Dr. Milbank of Albany on the occasion of the dinner the State officers gave Senator-elect Hill when the Senator left Albany. There had been prior complaints, but Dr. Bryant said he did not know when or by whom they had been made. The greater portion of Dr. Bryant's testimony was of a technical nature.

Cooper Curtice, State Inspector of Cattle, was next examined. He is considered an expert. Benator Smelzer piled him with questions regarding his work for the State Board. He said that when at one time he was examining cattle at Hoohester, he received a telegram from President Donahue ordering him to discontinue and report at the office of the Hoard. He had been acting under instructions from Secretary Balch, who, he said, had always given the Instructions, even during the time the Hon. Thomas Newbold was Fresident of the Board. Mr. Curtice said he thought the owners of eatile should be reimbursed when their animals were killed. He said that of the 2,500,000 eattle in the State. 2% per cent, are affected with some state of tuherculosis.

Mr. Curtice said that in the early part of February last Dr. Donahue, President of the State Board of Health, had written him requesting him to make a thorough report on tuberculosis in cattle. Dr. Donahue read the report almost verbatim before the Syracuse Academy of Medicine on Feb. 20, and gave him no credit whatever. The report cost $40 for stenographer's fee, but the Inspector received no tay for it other than his regular salary. The inspector objected to the use of his report without credit.

Ex-Senator Thomas Newbold testified to Eccretary Balch's efficiency as executive officer when the ex-Senator was President of the State Hoard of Health. He said the only trouble he found with the Board was in getting the members to do any work.

President Donahue desired to testify in corroboration of what he had asid in Albany with reference to Dr. Balch's resignation, as there seemed to be a difference between it and the antenent made Friday by Dr. Cyrus Edson. He said:

"Charges would have been preferred against Dr. Balch if he had not promised to resign oh her signal before this."

The committee then adjourned to meet in sinany on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'cloc been made. The greater portion of Dr. Bry-

Mr. Shober disappeared from Barrytown on Jan. 12. 1882, and then for the first time the public became aware of the fact that his married life was not a happy one. At the time he left home one story had it that a former student in St. Stephen's had aroused his jealousy. Another version attributed the trouble to over indulgence in stimulants taken when he was suffering from hemorrhages. At any rate, the Rev. Mr. Shober wrote to bishop Fotter asking to be deposed from the ministry, and his request was granted.

Mr. Shober went into newspaper work after leaving the ministry. He complained that he was continually dogged by detectives looking for evidence on which to begin a suit for divorce. When the suit was brought last week the offences charged were alleged to have ceurred on July P and 15 least at 208 East Thirteenth street and on Nov. 11 and 18 at the Maison Tortoni, the names of the co-respondents in each case being unknown. Mrs. Shober identified two entries on the register of the Maison Tortonia sthe bandwriting of her husband.
